

ROBBED IN SIGHT OF A POLICEMAN

Standing on the uptown side of the Third Avenue elevated station at Fourteenth Street early today Policeman Henry A. Quick, of the Fifth Street station, saw a man lying helpless in the gutter. Over him was a man who was rifling his pockets and nearby stood a third man who seemed to be acting as "lookout". The policeman drew his revolver and caught the alleged "lookout" and the man who was said to have been going through the helpless man's pockets. Quick called other policemen with him, and as help came one of the men is alleged to have flung a watch into the street. The man who had been robbed was accused of being drunk. He said he was James Angelo, of No. 13 East Third Street. He identified the watch that had been thrown away. The two other men said they were John Brokaw, alias Boker, of No. 13 East Third Street, Brooklyn. Both were locked up. Angelo was also arrested charged with intoxication. When arraigned in the Yerville Court Angelo was discharged and then entered complaint against the other two for robbery. They were held in $500 each for examination to-morrow. According to the police, Brokaw's picture is in the Rogues' Gallery and he has served a year in the Penitentiary for a burglary committed two years ago.
